Hello,

The second week of Advent is over and only one week and 3 days left until Christmas (but who's counting). As children I think we were usually counting because we were so anxious of getting to Christmas day and the gifts, and the gatherings, and the cookies and other things we remembered from past years and looking forward to again. As adults I think we usually are thinking of all the things we still need to get done (the gifts, the cookies, the invitations, the parties, the cards, the decorating ...) before Christmas. As a kid we are more in the anticipation and excitement attitude, as adults a bit more of a worry attitude, I think we need to be more like the kids.

As we celebrate Gaudete Sunday and light the rose colored candle we are supposed to rejoice in joyful expectation. Again, sounds more like the attitude of children than most adults. I think one of the main reasons for this problem for adults is that we think it depends on us, that we are responsible. If we don't get all the things we need to get done that Christmas won't be, or it will be ruined. As children we know it doesn't depend upon us. We get to participate in the celebration and to be a part of it, but we also realize that there are all of these old traditions and practices that are done that we are only starting to take part in. It is kind of obvious that this was happening even before we were around (as was always a reminder for me growing up in looking at old family photos we put out of Christmas's past when I wasn't even born yet).

Maybe just looking at one small but critical part of most of our Christmas celebration can help see this. Consider your family Christmas tree. Most of us probably have specific ways in which it is to be decorated, if it is a live tree or artificial, if we use colored lights or only white, what goes on top, the type of ornaments we use, where it goes in the home and even when it goes up are all things we can get pretty fixed on. And yet all of those are just very secondary and don't even matter, if we don't have the tree. Christ is that tree.

All the other things we do, that we are responsible for, are useless if we don't have Christ in our Christmas. And that is a part that God has waiting for us. You could say don't forget to come by Church and pick Him up. God gives us what is central for our Christmas celebrations, never forget in all that we do to prepare for it that the gift of Christ is what Christmas is about.

Peace,

Fr. Nick

December 15, 2019 — Third Sunday in Advent

IS 35:1-6A, 10; PS146:6-10; JAS 5:7-10; MT 11:2-11

Good news, Christian stewards — we are gaining ground on our Advent mountain climb and it is time to take a moment to rejoice in the Good News that our Savior will come again in triumph one day. Today's readings on this Gaudete ("Rejoice") Sunday are filled with reminders of God's final victory over suffering and injustice, and encouragement to remain steadfast in our mission to live as faith-filled disciples.

Such a day almost seems too good to be true, especially when we look around at the dire circumstances we face in our world at present. But by faith we know this day is coming. Lest we grow weary as we await the glorious day of Christ's return, St. James, in our second reading, offers wise counsel. "Be patient, brothers and sisters, until the coming of the Lord... Make your hearts firm... Do not complain, brothers and sisters, about one another, that you may not be judged."

This is excellent advice for us Christian stewards as we face the challenges of everyday life in our broken world, especially in the hectic days that precede Christmas, when stress can make us and those around us less than our best selves. St. James reminds us that we can choose our response to both the great strains and the minor annoyances of life.

In other words, we can be good stewards of our attitude, "making our hearts firm" by practicing patience with others and refusing to give in to the temptation to complain.

We can choose to see and rejoice in God's presence with us, no matter the circumstances surrounding us.

An Advent Prayer – Week Three – JOY

Let us pray that God will fill us with joy at the coming of Christ.

Lord God, may we, your people, who look forward to the birthday of Christ experience the joy of salvation and celebrate that feast with love and thanksgiving.

We lift our hearts up to you, Lord, to thank you for the blessings you shower on us each day.

You are the joy of our souls.

We know that in your great love, we are held and protected by you.

We pray and listen to the good news you send; we ask and feel the healing.

We are freed by you from the things in this world that let us hide from you.

We rejoice, we rejoice, down to our souls.

Help us to prepare our hearts to be open and able to receive your immense love.

May the Lord bless us, protect us from all evil and bring us to everlasting life.

Amen.

ASSUMPTION PARISH MISSION

What is a Mission?

A mission is a time of special grace when God call us into a deeper relationship with Him, a time for personal growth, a time to listen, and a time of spiritual refreshment and invigoration.

Who is a Mission for?

The mission is for all people, from inactive to very active. It is for all ages and for any stage in life - married, single, divorce, separated, widowed, etc. We particularly invite those who want to know more about the church today and how faith can take an active role in the everyday experiences of our lives.
