Hello,

I'm writing this week a little early because I will be gone on vacation when I should be getting this in. Thinking of what I need to pack for vacation reminded me of what one of my brothers told me a few years ago, if you are somewhere on a vacation or far away, especially if you are hiking or something of the sort, you should wear a t-shirt that says where you are from. He said this because he had numerous occasions where he was in a different state or a different country and someone saw his t-shirt or a hat and started a conversation asking about the city, or state, or university I thought that was a pretty good idea. I know I've experienced those same situations at times and also can say I've started talking to people in another country when you see they are wearing a Cardinal's cap or a University of Minnesota (my alma mater) t-shirt.

So why mention this in the bulletin? Thinking about this, I wondered what type of t-shirt would we wear to state our faith? The whole reason my brother had for wearing the t-shirt was to start a conversation with someone by giving them an opening. Sounds like that would be a good approach to evangelization. I know I have had people start talking to me when they see that I'm in this black shirt with a white collar. I've also had people start talking to me just because they saw a parish name on a shirt or jacket I have on (and I'm not wearing my clerics). (And this isn't just a plug to buy a t-shirt for the parish 150th anniversary, but it could help.)

I spent a good part of one of the summers, when I was in the seminary, biking across the country for a fund raiser/awareness raiser for Pro-Life charities. A parishioner from my home parish designed a t-shirt for it that we sold and that I would wear each day (I had numerous of them along). It worked kind of the same way, and there were many people who started talking to me because of the t-shirt. I even had someone buy my lunch for me in a small town in Idaho, where I ended up talking with pretty much all of the 8-10 people in the restaurant. When I was about half way through this trip I noticed taking off my shirt one night that my back looked funny, I had been wearing that shirt in the sun so long that I was getting a negative of the t-shirt in a tan on my back.

OK, maybe it isn't printed on a t-shirt or hat, or branded on our skin, but maybe it is in our actions or words that can matter the most. I also remember biking through southeastern Missouri and I stopped at a Sonic for lunch. When I sat down to eat I just made the sign of the cross and said a prayer before eating. Someone who saw this started up a conversation with me asking if I was Catholic. Other times it has been something I'm reading, or as simple as a reference you make, "Sunday afternoon, after Mass..." Not only our clothing but also our actions and words are some of the ways that we not only live out our faith, but can also evangelize and let others know something about us, and may make them feel comfortable enough talking to us about our faith. What are the ways that someone who meets you, might be able to know you are Catholic? And is that something you are willing to talk about?

Peace,

Fr. Nick

“...living the truth in love, we should grow in every way into Him...from whom the whole body, held and joined together by every supporting ligament brings about the body's growth and builds itself in love.”

- Ephesians 4:15-16

Thank you so much to all the volunteers who worked on the landscaping of our campus last Monday, July 19! We trimmed trees and shrubs, weeded, raked flower beds and picked up litter. We had over 50 volunteers, and the results were fantastic! We hope you can join us for the next round in early August (date to be announced), when we will be placing fresh mulch around the trees and shrubs. With another good turnout, it will look awesome, just in time for the Archbishop's visit!

Stewardship of Time: Ministry Needs!

Transportation Ministry: Would you be willing to help a parishioner get to Mass or to a doctor's appointment who is unable to drive? We have parishioners who, from time to time, need that kind of assistance. If you can help in this way, please call or email Jeannette at: 636-240-3721 ext. 247. Email: abvmjeannette@yahoo.com.

Hospitality Sunday Ministry: Are you welcoming, inviting and love to be around people? Do you like to help people feel special and prepare a place for fellowship? If this describes you then the Hospitality Sunday ministry is a wonderful place to share your gifts! For more information, please contact Jeannette at: 636-240-3721 ext. 247.
